

Francisco Herrera received his M.Sc. in Mathematics in 1988 and Ph.D. in Mathematics in 1991, both from the University of Granada, Spain. He is a Professor in the Department of Computer Science and Artificial Intelligence at the University of Granada. He's an academican in the Royal Academy of Engineering (Spain). He was the founding director of the Andalusian Research Institute in Data Science and Computational Intelligence (DaSCI). He has been the supervisor over 70 Ph.D. students. He has published more than 700 journal papers, receiving more than 188000 citations (Scholar Google, H-index 196). He has been nominated as a Highly Cited Researcher (in the fields of Computer Science since 2014 to present, Clarivate Analytics). His current research interests in include among others, computational intelligence, data science, trustworthy artificial intelligence and generative AI.